

Executive Biography

Xavier Garcia

Vice President and General Manager
Global Head of Workstations and Thin Clients
Personal Systems
HP Inc.

Xavier Garcia is Vice President and General Manager, Global Head of Workstations and Thin Clients, Personal Systems, HP Inc. In this role, he is responsible for business, innovation and product strategy and execution, including Product Development, Product Management and go-to-market strategy across Workstations and Thin Clients worldwide.

Previously, Xavier was the general manager of the HP Large Format Printing Business with worldwide responsibility for day-to-day operations within the HP DesignJet, HP PageWide XL and HP Latex portfolios. Prior to that role, Xavier was the Vice President and General Manager of HP Scitex Industrial Presses, and also held the Worldwide Director of Operations position. In these positions, Xavier played an integral role in helping the business reach significant milestones in all key metrics, working closely with customers and regional teams, and bringing disruptive innovation to the market.

Since joining HP in 1993 as a product engineer at HP Barcelona, Xavier has held a variety of operations, research and development management positions within HP's Graphics Solutions Business. In 2006, Xavier was responsible for the creation of the Large Format Lab in Shanghai, during a relocation period to China.

Xavier holds a master's degree in business administration from ESADE (Escuela Superior de Administración y Dirección de Empresas) Business School and a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya in Barcelona, Spain.