

Executive Biography

Pete Humphrey

Vice President, Research and Development

Pete Humphrey joined Brooks in 1999 and is currently the Vice President of Research and Development where he leads product innovation, development and biomechanics in the pursuit of delivering the most personalized running experience to runners. With more than twenty years of experience in the industry, Humphrey and his teams are responsible for the introduction of multiple, award-winning products and technologies including the development of the Brooks signature fit, feel and ride. Prior to joining Brooks, Humphrey worked for Pentland Sports Group as a category manager and worked in specialty run for the Athlete's House in Nashville, TN.