Sarah Goehrke has been a dedicated 3D printing journalist since 2014. She served as the editor-in-chief of 3DPrint.com from 2015 to 2018, when she launched independent additive manufacturing-focused editorial services company Additive Integrity. Her primary client is Fabbaloo, where she is the Managing Editor working to bring grounded and on-the-ground insights to the 3D printing industry.

She works with other publications including Forbes, as well as industry clients, to provide quality AM content. Sarah is also on the Board of Directors of Women in 3D Printing and part of the Executive Committee planning the Wi3DP TIPE 3D Printing conference featuring the AM industry's first all-women agenda of speakers.
