

Executive Biography

Matthias Weisskopf

Senior Vice President of Global Product-and Technology Development

Matthias Weisskopf holds the position of Senior Vice President of Global Product- and Technology Development. His areas of focus at this role are, among others, Product, Material and Process development, as well we Additive Manufacturing.

He joined Oechsler in 2008 as a Process engineer in the department of Advanced Technology and has held different positions at the company ever since.

Matthias studied Mechanical Engineering with a focus on plastics technology at the University of Erlangen-Nürnberg.