

Executive Biography

Andy Rhodes

General Manager
Hybrid Work Solutions & Peripherals
HP Inc.

Beginning Aug 29, 2022, Andy Rhodes became the General Manager of Hybrid Work Solutions & Peripherals Organization at HP Inc.

Andy's previous role, GM and Global Head of Commercial Systems and Displays Solutions, lead a global team responsible for the planning, development and execution of the commercial PC and displays solutions portfolio which represented $21B in annual revenue for HP Inc. Under Andy's leadership, the team proudly delivered the world's most secure and manageable PCs and the world's most sustainable PC portfolio.

With more than 20 years in the technology industry, Andy is a seasoned executive with extensive experience in General Management, Strategy, Global Sales and Marketing. He started his career at Hewlett-Packard in Enterprise Sales and Marketing roles before moving to Dell, where he ran the Commercial Mobility, Precision Workstation Solutions and Commercial IoT Solutions businesses.

Andy holds a BA Honors in Business Administration from Oxford Brooks University, United Kingdom & Curtin University in Perth, Australia. He is based in Texas with his wife and two children. Outside of work, Andy enjoys biking, skiing, and scuba diving to help with ocean conservancy efforts.